- (iii) to pay monthly to the Accountant-General, so long as the contributor is employed by him –
- (A) the amount of the contribution to be made by him; and
- (B) in addition, where no remuneration is payable by him to the contributor in respect of any month, the amount of the contribution required to be made to the Scheme by the contributor for that month.
- (3) Where an employer has paid to the Accountant-General any amount under subsection (2)(b)(iii)(b) –
- (a) he may, by such monthly instalments, not exceeding 12, as may be agreed upon by him and the contributor, deduct the amount so paid from any remuneration subsequently payable by him to the contributor; and
- (b) where no remuneration is subsequently payable by him to the contributor, the amount so paid may, on the written application of the employer, be –
- (i) deducted, in such manner as the Board may determine, from any gratuity or pension payable to or in respect of the contributor; and
- (ii) refunded to the employer.
- (4) The Board may in its absolute discretion and on good cause shown extend the time specified in subsection (1), on such terms and conditions as it may determine.

PART 111 – CONTRIBUTIONS

16 Contributions to Scheme

- (1) Subject to subsections (2) and (3), every public officer “who was appointed as a public officer before 1 January 2013”; shall, from the date of his appointment as a public officer and –

- (a) until he attains the age of 65 or, in the case of a Judge, the age of 67;
- (b) until –
 - (i) he ceases to be a public officer; or
 - (ii) where he ceases to be a public officer on being transferred to approved service and has made an election under section 15, until he ceases to be an employee, whichever is earlier, make a contribution to the Scheme in respect of his monthly salary at the rate specified in the First Schedule

- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), every female public officer who “was appointed before 1 January 2013 and” has attained the age of 18 shall, as from 1 July 1993, make the contribution required in subsection (1).
- (3) Notwithstanding subsection (1) and (2), a female public officer who “was appointed before 1 January 2013 and” on 1 July 1993, has attained the age of 45 may, by a written declaration made not later than 31 August 1993, elect not to contribute to the Scheme.
- (4) A declaration under subsection (3) shall be irrevocable.
- (4A) A member of the Assembly shall make the contribution required in subsection (1) during his legislative service until he reaches the age of 65.
- (4B) Where a member of the Assembly, who has not reached the age of 65 years, ceases to be a member, he may opt to –
 - (a) cease to contribute to the Scheme; or
 - (b) continue to contribute to the Scheme at the rate of 4 per cent of the salary drawn at the time he ceased to be a member.
- (4C) A public officer or an employee in post as at 30 June 2008, or a member of the Assembly who has served or was serving before 1 July 2008 and who has opted to continue to contribute at the rate of 2 per cent, may, while in service, opt to cease to contribute to the Scheme on reaching the age of 60.
- (4D) Where an option is made pursuant to subsection (4C), the pension shall be computed on the salary drawn at the time the public officer, employee or member ceases to contribute to the Scheme.
- (4E) A member of the Assembly may opt to contribute to the Scheme at the rate of 4 per cent of his salary during his legislative service –
 - (a) in the case of a member serving on the day immediately preceding the commencement of this subsection, within 28 days of the commencement of this subsection;
 - (b) in any other case, within 28 days of his being sworn in as member.
- (5) Contributions shall accrue daily but shall be paid at the end of a month.
[Amended 28/93]

17 Contribution on leave

- (1) A contributor, other than a member of the Assembly on leave with half pay or without pay, shall, during the period of his leave, make to the Scheme the same contribution which he would have made if he were not on leave.

- (2) Where a contributor, other than a member of the Assembly, has not made a contribution pursuant to subsection (1), he shall, within one year from the date of his resumption of duty, settle his outstanding contribution.
- (3) Where the contributor, other than a member of the Assembly, fails to settle his outstanding contribution within the time specified under subsection (2), he shall forfeit any right to have such leave being reckoned as contributing period.

18 Abatement from contributor's salary

The Accountant-General shall, on paying the salary, or any portion of it, of a contributor make from the amount of the salary so paid an abatement of the contribution required to be made under section 16.

19 Adjustment contribution

- (1) Where a contributor reckons, at the relevant date, a non-contributory period in his contributory service, he shall, by notice in writing so as to reach the Board on or before the date of his retirement, declare whether he elects –
 - (a) to pay the adjustment contribution; or
 - (b) not to pay the adjustment contribution;
 - (2) Where a contributor has made a declaration under subsection (1) (a), the adjustment contribution required to be paid by him shall be deducted –
 - (a) from any gratuity payable to him;
 - (b) where the gratuity payable is insufficient to satisfy the adjustment contribution, from any pension payable to him to the extent the adjustment contribution exceeds the gratuity;
 - (c) where no gratuity is payable or where the gratuity has already been paid –
 - (i) from the pension payable to him; or
 - (ii) if the contributor has died, from the pension accruing to the surviving spouse or children in such manner as the Board may direct.
 - (3) Subject to subsection (4), where a contributor fails to make the declaration required to be made under subsection (1), he shall be deemed to have elected not to pay the adjustment contribution.
 - (4) Where a contributor dies without having made the declaration required to be made under subsection (1), he shall be deemed to have elected to pay the adjustment contribution if the pension accruing to his surviving spouse or children would thereby be enhanced.
- [Amended 28/93]

20 Amount of Adjustment contribution

- (1) The adjustment contribution shall be an amount representing the aggregate amount of the contributions which would have been payable in respect of a non-contributory period computed on the monthly salary drawn by the contributor during the non-contributory period at the rate specified in the First Schedule.
- (2) The Board may, by notice in writing and within the time specified, require any contributor who has made a declaration in accordance with section 19 (1) (a) to furnish such information as may be necessary for the computation of the adjustment contribution.
- (3) Where a contributor refuses or fails to comply with any notice issued under subsection (2), the Board shall determine the adjustment contribution in such manner as it thinks fit.

23 Re-employment of pensioners

Where a deduction is made from a pension under section 19 and the pension is subsequently suspended on the contributor re-entering the service of the Government, whether in a pensionable office or not, the part of the adjustment contribution remaining unpaid at the date of the suspension of the pension shall be deducted by the Accountant-General, in such manner as the Board may determine, from the salary the officer receives on his re-entering the service of Government.

24 Non-payment of adjustment contribution

Where a contributor has elected, in accordance with section 19 (1) (b) not to pay the adjustment contribution or where, owing to the death of the contributor, part of the adjustment contribution has not been deducted under section 23, the Board shall forego the payment of the adjustment contribution or the part remaining unpaid.

25 Return of contributions

- (1) There shall be returned to a contributor, other than a member of Assembly, or his legal representative the contributions made by him where –
 - (a) he has never contracted marriage and no pension is payable in respect of those contributions at the time he ceases to be a public officer or an employee, as the case may be; or
 - (b) he has contracted a marriage and no pension is payable in respect of those contributions –
 - (i) at the time he ceases to be a public officer or an employee, as the case may be; or
 - (ii) after he has ceased to be a public officer, on the death of his spouse;
 - (c) his spouse who was also a contributor dies and a pension is payable in respect of the latter's contributions; or
 - (d) he has opted to cease to contribute to the Scheme on reaching the age of 60 and no pension is payable in respect of those contributions.
- (2) Where contributions are returned under subsection (1) (c) the surviving contributor may, by a written declaration made within 60 days from the date of the death, elect not to continue to contribute to the Scheme.
- (3) The contributions to be returned under this section shall include –
 - (a) contributions made under section 16;
 - (b) the adjustment contribution, or any part of it, which has been paid; and
 - (c) the contributions made under the Widows and Orphans Pension Fund Act.
- (4A) (a) A refund of contributions may be effected to a member of the Assembly where no pension is payable in respect of those contributions –
 - (i) at the time the member reaches the age of 65 or at any time thereafter; or
 - (ii) where the member opts to cease to contribute to the Scheme at the age of 60.
 - (b) Where a member of the Assembly to whom no pension is payable dies, a refund of contribution may be effected to his heirs.

- (4) Where contributions are returned under this section there shall be paid, in addition, an amount representing compound interest, at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, computed annually on 31 December, and up to the date the contributor is eligible for a refund, on the aggregate contributions and adjustment contribution, or any part of it, paid during the year.
- (5) Subject to subsection (2) where contributions have been returned to a contributor under this section, no pension shall be payable on his death to his surviving spouse or children.
[Amended 28/93]

26 Deduction of sums due to Government

The Board may cause any sums due to the Government by any contributor to be deducted from the contributions returned to any person under section 25.

PART IV – PENSIONS

27 Surviving Spouse's and Children's pensions

Subject to this Act, on the death of a contributor, whether it occurs before or after he ceases to be a member of the Assembly, a public officer or an employee, as the case may be, the Board shall –

- (a) where the contributor leaves a child, grant to the child a pension to be known as a children's pension;
- (b) where the contributor leaves more than one child, grant, for their benefit, a pension to be known as a children's pension which shall be apportioned equally between each child;
- (c) where the contributor leaves not more than one surviving spouse, grant to the surviving spouse a pension to be known as a surviving spouse's pension; and
- (d) where the contributor leaves more than one surviving spouse, grant, for their benefit, the pension referred to in paragraph (c) which shall be apportioned equally between each surviving spouse.

[Amended 10/2017]

28 Rate of surviving spouse's pension

The annual rate of a surviving spouse's pension shall amount to one third of the rate of the basic unreduced pension of the deceased.

29 Rate of children's pension

The annual rate of a children's pension shall be –

- (a) where no surviving spouse's pension is payable -
 - (i) if the pension accrues to 2 or more children, one half of the rate of the basic unreduced pension of the deceased;
 - (ii) if the pension accrues to one child only, one quarter of the rate of the basic unreduced pension of the deceased;
- (b) where the deceased leaves a surviving spouse, one sixth of the basic unreduced pension of the deceased, irrespective of the number of children to whom the pension accrues.

[Amended 28/93]

30 Minimum rates of pensions

(1) Subject to section 32, where a contributor dies while still in public service or approved service, as the case may be, and has made contributions for a period of less than 240 months, the period to be taken into account for the computation of his basic unreduced pension for the purposes of this Act shall be -

- (a) if he had lived until the age of 55 and the total period during which he has or could have made contributions is 240 months or more, 240 months;
 - (b) if he had lived until the age of 55 and the period during which he has or could have made contributions is less than 240 months, the number of completed months during which he has or could have made contributions.
- (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), the minimum monthly pension payable to a relative of the contributor shall be -
- (a) as specified in the Second Schedule; and
 - (b) adjusted by any yearly compensation awarded by the Government.

31 Increase of rates of pensions

- (1) Where a public officer or an employee, as the case may be, by declaration surrendered any claim to any benefit under the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund Act, the aggregate rate of the surviving spouse's pension and the children's pension payable under this Act shall not at any time be less than the rate of the paid up pension.
- (2) Where subsection (1) applies and -
- (a) there is only one person to whom a pension is being paid or is to be granted, such pension shall be at the rate of the paid up pension;
 - (b) there are two or more persons to whom pensions are being paid or are to be granted, each person's pension shall be such proportion of the paid up pension as that person's pension bears to the aggregate of the surviving spouse's and children's pensions.
- [Amended 28/93;]

32 Contributory period

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), the contributory period of a contributor shall be to the aggregate of -
- (a) the number of completed months of his contributory service in respect of which he has made contributions to the Fund, or to the Scheme under section 16; and
 - (b) the number of completed months, if any, in his non-contributory period in respect of which he has elected to pay an adjustment contribution under section 19(1) (a).
- (2) (a) Where a contributor has failed to pay, or the Board has foregone payment under section 24 of, any part of the adjustment contribution payable by the contributor under section 21 (1), no account shall be taken of the number of months in respect of which the adjustment contribution has not been paid.
- (a) For the purposes of paragraph (a), any part of a month in respect of which an adjustment contribution has not been paid shall be reckoned as one month.

33 Accrual of pensions

- (1) A surviving spouse's pension and a children's pension granted under section 27 shall accrue from the date following the day on which the deceased in respect of whose contributions the pensions are payable died.
- (2) (a) The pensions shall accrue daily but shall be paid at the end of a month.
- (b) The Chairman may direct that any pension accruing to any person at the end of a month be paid before the last day of the month.

- (3) Upon the death of a person to whom a surviving spouse's pension is payable under the Scheme or the Fund, his legal personal representative shall be paid one full month's pension in respect of the month in which he dies together with a gratuity of an equivalent amount.
[Amended 28/93]

34 Surviving Spouse's pensions

- (1) A surviving spouse's pension granted under section 27 shall cease on the surviving spouse's death or remarriage.
(2) Where the Board is satisfied that the remarriage has come to an end, it may, if it thinks fit, restore the pension.
[Amended 28/93]

36 Children's pension

- (1) A children's pension shall be granted where, and be paid so long as, there are persons for whose benefit it may accrue.
(2) The Board may authorize the payment of a children's pension to a child who has attained the age of 18 and is not receiving fulltime education, where it is satisfied that there are compassionate grounds for the payment of the pension.
(3) A children's pension shall not accrue for the benefit of a child who at the time of the death of the contributor was married.
(4) (a) Where after the death of the contributor, a child marries, he shall then cease to be a person for whose benefit a children's pension may accrue.
(c) Where a pension ceases on the marriage of a child, the Board may, on such marriage being annulled or dissolved by a decree of competent court, if it thinks fit, restore the pension as from such date as it may determine.
(5) A children's pension shall be paid to the legal guardian of the children or, where there is no legal guardian, to such person as may be appointed by the Board under section 37 and such pension shall be applied for the benefit of the children of the deceased to whom the pension accrues.

37 Children without legal guardian

Every public officer, on becoming a contributor, shall be deemed to have agreed that, in the event of any pension becoming payable to his children, the Board may, where the children have no legal guardian, appoint some fit and proper person or persons to receive the pension, to give a legal discharge for its payment and to apply it for the benefit of the children.

38 Proof of claims

The Board may, before effecting payment of a pension, require satisfactory proof that the person who claims to be entitled to the pension under this Act, or on behalf of whom such claim is made, is alive and entitled to the pension.

38A Refund of overpayment of pensions

Every pensioner or his heirs shall refund to the Government any overpayment made to him or the deceased pensioner, as the case may be, under this Act.

38B Payment of arrears

The maximum arrears of pension to be paid under this Act shall be for a period of 3 years.

39 Pension not assignable

Unless otherwise expressly authorized by any enactment, no pension payable and no rights to any pension under this Act shall be assignable, transferable or liable to be attached, sequestered or levied on.
